Not illustrated. 1922 Excerpt: . . . justified feeling in America that the continuance of the treaty was a menace to our country. This fact was not unrecognized in Great Britain itself. As Mr. Balfour stated at the Washington Conference, it was necessary to annul, merge, destroy, as it were, this ancient and outward and unnecessary agreement, and replace it by something new, something effective, which should embrace all the Powers concerned in the vast area of the Pacific. By the FourPower Treaty the Anglo-Japanese Alliance was automatically discontinued and Great Britain, the United States, France, and Japan became associated in friendly partnership as guardians of the peace in the Far East. A TRIP TO HAWAII That summer I decided to combine business with pleasure by taking a vacation trip along the Canadian border from Montreal to Vancouver to inspect the lighthouse and immigration services, then down the Pacific coast and to Hawaii, where I might acquaint myself with regard to immigration as it affected the Japanese question. The President thought this would be a useful trip and urged me to take it. In the administration of a department such as that of Commerce and Labor it was important to familiarize ones self as much as possible with its outlying branches, to become personally acquainted with the various officers and the details of their work and surroundings, thereby to enable one better to do the administrative work than by remaining at ones desk. After leaving Vancouver, we stopped a few days each...
